

10.09.2010 16:08 Uhr

Railway slewing cranes are designed for multiple tasks such as bridge and railway construction as well as the utilisation as breakdown crane.

To top

Due to the dimensional limitations of the loading gauge envelope and overhead power lines, only Triple Row Roller Slewing Rings are suitable for the loading encountered in railway cranes. Slewing Ring designs with internal tothing, (see picture on the right), or external tothing (as cross-section), are available.

